PARIS A WELL LIGHTED CITY.

Most American Cities.

Strange Contrast With Conditions in Paris offers a strange contrast to London (and to most American cities) in the matter of street lighting. London is woefully somber at night, except at certain points where concert halls and "gin mills" are numerous, wheresas Paris is brilliantly lighted everywhere. Nothing so astonishes the American visitor as the long lines of brilliant gas lamps (incandesant burners, all of which function perfectly) reaching down each and every street to sparkling perspectives of diamond strings. Do you feel disposed to shrug your shoulders and cry out that it is garish and unrestful? Please don't. It is a grand success and a joy forever. If you doubt it, come over here and see for yourselves. I have carefully observed the placement of sampposts and find that in some places there is one every twenty feet; in less favored localities, one every forty or fifty feet, while the little streets have them at intervals of about 200 feet. In the case of the poor little streets the lighting is, at the worst, admirable not to say magnificent. What does all this cost? It costs too much, from one enlightened (or unlighted) point We are content to grope about in the dark streets. The Parisian abhors darkness (as he should) and is willing to pay for light, even though he may pay pretty dearly for

A Measure to be Introduced at the Coming Session of the General As-

WILL PRESERVE FORESTS

Major Lewis W. Haskell, a member of the Richland delegation in the house of representatives, will introduce a bill at the approaching session of the legislature which will provide for a study of the forest conditions in this State by the agricultural experiment station at Clemson college in co-operation with the United States department of agriculture.

This is a step that is of the greatest importance to the State, as is attested by the opinion of all who have had occasion or opportunity to investigate these conditions and learn of the depleted condition of our forests. The time for this action seems propitious, as the department of agriculture is offering to appropriate for the purpose an amount equal to any appropriation the State may make, and in addition to that it will detail a forestry expert to devote his time and attention to the work of reclaiming the South Carolina

In a letter to Major Haskell on the subject, Mr. Gillord Pinchot, the government forester, says: "I am glad to see that you are taking an active interest in the welfare of your State forests as well as the prosperity of the other business interests within your State which must be affected by the forest conditions.

The forest service has always advised a study of forest conditions preparatory to the introduction of a State forest law, believing that conditions in the various States require a modification of the fundamental ideas necessary to such a law. Pursuant to this idea, several of the States have already asked the forest service to cooperate with them in such an investigation. It has been the custom of this bureau to accept such invitations and the Chicago packers and asked permission to inspect their books, the condito expend in the necessary study an amount equal to that appropriated by the State."

The important section in Major Haskel's proposed bill will provide that it shall be the duty of the agricultural experiment station of Clemson College to conduct investigations in the several sections of the State in order to discover the variety of valuable trees best suited to grow on the various kinds of land in the State; to determine the cost and the best methods of propagating, planting, cultivating and managing wood lots and plantations on various kinds of soil; to determine by investigation the average growth of the various kinds of trees, and the relative value of the various kinds of timber for commercial purposes; to conduct experiments in the treatment on the various kinds of woods for the purpose of increasing durability, and to determine by experiment and investigation the kind of trees and shrubs best suited to various situations for windbreaks and Since the Government has elevated shelter, and for decorative planting and managing the same, and to issue bulletins or publications from time to time containing useful information and recommendations upon subjects specified, and to make a full and complete report to the government of work done, experiments made, information prosecute Western offenders than of-obtained, etc., prior to the convening obtained, etc., prior to the convening of the legislature in January, 1907, of the legislature in January and every year thereafter .- Columbia

Very Sick Boy.

Mark Twain, on his last visit to his birthplace, Hannibal, Mo., told to the school children a true story about a schoolboy.

"This boy," he said, "awoke one morning very ill. His groans alarmed the household. The doctor was sent for and came post haste.

'Well,' said the doctor, as he entered the sick room, 'what is the trouble?'

"'A pain in my side,' said the boy. "'Any pain in the head?" "'Yes, sir.'

"'Is the right hand stiff?' "'A little." "'How about the right foot?" "'That's stiff, too.'

"'We'l,' he said, 'you're pretty sick. But you'll be able to go to school on Monday. Let me see, today is Saturday and---' "'Is to-day Saturday?' said the boy in a vexed tone, 'I thought it was Friday.'

"Half an hour later that boy de clared himself healed and got no. Then they packed him off to school, for it was Friday, after all." Phila delphia Record.

Unique Lighthouse.

The most six erinary of all Brit ish lightheases is to be found on Arnish Rock, Stornoway Bay-a rock which is separated from the island of Lewis by a channel over 500 feet wide. On this rock a conical beacon is erected, and on its summit a lantern is fixed, from which, night after night. shines a light which is seen by the fishermen far and wide. The way in which the lighthouse is illuminated is this. On the Island of Lewis is a lighthouse and from a window in the tower a stream of light is projected on to a mirror in the lantern on the summit of Arnish Rock.

The gas used is known as producer gas, and is to all intents and purposes steam or water vapor passed through incandescent coke in special form of furnace. The resultant gas is a combination of carbon monoxide, hydrogen and nitrogen. Utilizing the fuel in this manner is claimed to effect a very appreciable economy as compared with burning it under a boiler to generate steam. Indeed it has been estimated that one pound of fuel will thus go as far as three pounds in the latter method. This on a long voyage not only means the reduction of the coal bill, but also a corresponding increase in cargo space or passenger accommodation. It therefore behooves steamship companies to pause before adopting the steam turbine in a wholesale manner, -New York Herald.

Linen suits that brought $25 early in the season may now be had for $9 or $10. Embroidered shirt waists are reduced about half; good linen skirts are sold for $2 and $3; 50-cent belts are now going for 10; straw hats may be had for the proverbial song, and linen shirt waist suits that have sold for $8, $10 and $12 may now be poked up at $4 and $5. These things will not look old-fashioned next summer. A few necessary alterations may be performed at home and considerable wear achieved before linen frocks are called in for 1905.

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills,

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such nosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration. Falling and Displacement of the Womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Leucorrheea than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the Uterus in an early stage of development.

Irregular, Suppressed or Painful Menstruation, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flooding, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it. Womb troubles, causing pain, weight and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it invigorates the female system, and is as harmless as water.

It quickly removes that Bearing-down Feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, Dizziness, Faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues" and headache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the Uterus, which this medicine always cures. Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex, the Vegetable Compound always cures.

Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want-a cure. Sold by Druggists
